"Dononue's."—John Donohue has opened one of the nestest and most quiet salcons in the city, on Fourth-street, up stairs, in the building adjoining the Opera-house, and has supplied himself with the best articles. As the location is in the heart of the city, "Donohue's" will be one the most popular, as it is one of the most pleasant, on the fashionable promenade.

Timely Warning.—The most glaring neglect, both by men and women, is observable every day in the way of clothing the feet—not one in twenty wearing boots or shoes suited to the weather. Gentlemen should take warning before their health is gone, and provide themselves with a pair of J. H. Deters's winter, water-proof boots, such as he alone can make. Call at his store, Fourth-street, west of Walnut.

ADVERTISERS, ATTENTION !- Bear in mind that the PENNY PRESS is read in a greater number of families than any other paper printed in Cincinnati; that the working man reads it, that it is emphatically the people's paper, and is rapidly winning its way to a circulation unprecedented in the history of Western newspapers. HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—A man named George C. Freeman, on his way to market in this city, C. Freeman, on his way to market in this city, very early yesterday morning, was stopped by three or four persons whom he met on the turnpike a short distance from Cumminsville, and robbed'of all the money he had, amounting to nearly twenty-five dollars, besides a number of pairs of chickens and several turkeys which were in the wagon. Mr. F., of course, resisted the scoundrels to the best of his ability, but he was alone in the scuffle, and received two or three very severe blows which rendered him quite insensible. During the time he lay unconscious he was robbed, and before he recovered his assailants had effected an escape. Such high-handed outrages upon the public highway are becoming much too common, and if one or two of these robbers were shot dead in the act, it would doubtless prove a salutary lesson to those left behind.

A Wife Deceived by a Country Cousin.—
The wife of a steamboat mate applied to a down-town Magistrate, vesterday, for a warrant to arrest her husband, who had ran off with another woman but as it appeared that he had gone away two weeks before, and had written to his deserted spouse from Madison, Wisconsin, informing her that he would never return to her, the Justice advised her to give up any attempt to redress her wrongs legally.

The wife said that her faithless consort had taken a woman, whom he called his country cousin, to his home, to remain for a brief time, but after the third day their conduct was so peculiar that she grew jealous, and suspected the truth of the relation, without, however, expressing her opinion to her liege-lord.

A day or two more having forced Mrs.—
to believe her turnises, the and her commubal pariner quarreled, and had little to say to sanding his cousin home.

The "cousins" went off the next morning, and have not times been seen, the wife having since learned that the frail creature with whom her husband had eloped had been his mistress for a number months previous to the time she made her apperance in the domestic scene, forever clouded by the unexpected exodus of the seventh commandment-violating twain.

The wife of the relation, without, however, apart from what relates directly to she sect itself, was sgainst the Christian Union and Busingsince learned that the frail creature with whom her husband had eloped had been his mistress for a number months previous to the time she made her apperance in the domestic scene, forever clouded by the unexpected exodus of the seventh commandment-violating twain.

A CANINE BLACKSTONE—STORT OF A DOG TRAT UNDRESTOOD BOTH ASTRONOMY AND LAW. Among all the wonderful stories related of the segacity of dogs, we never heard of one which imparted either a knewledge of astronomy or of law to any member of the canine race until a day or two ago, when the following was re-lated to us and we were fully convinced of its truth. We know not why "Trsy," and "Blanche," and "Sweetheart," all, may not know their celestial brothers, Sirius and Procyen, and have no doubt our "Fidelio" had a kind of psychological communication with some of his olden loves that have gone before him to the land of canine shadows, that often preserved him from the danger to which his fellows were exposed throughout the summer season.

A few years ago, before that portion of Cincinnati, now known as the Seventeenth Ward, had been added to our beautiful city, and while it was still called Fulton, a man residing near the corner of Race and Fourth-streets had a dog named "Fidelio," to which every member of his family, as well as himself, seemed as much attached as the faithful little animal was to them. By some means when the reign of the dog-star began "Fidelio" would leave his home and go to the house of a married daughter of his master's, who resided in Fulton, and remain there until the time during which it was unlawful for dogs to go at large in the city unmuzzled had expired, go at large in the city unmuzzled had expired and then he would return.

For many summers the dog persisted in this habit, and when his master would visit his daughter, which often happened, "Fidelio" would follow him on his way home until he reached the corporation line, but coax or drive as he chose, the knowing animal never could neither be induced nor forced to cross it, until after the reign of the dog-star had ceased, at which time, as we have already stated, he would return home. But, alas! for poor "Fidelio," when Fulton was annexed to the city, there was no place to which he could go to escape the murderous hands of the dog-killers, and he at last fell a victim to the miserable class of persons whom all his life he had feared.

last fell a victim to the miserable class of persons whom all his life he had feared.

The curious in regard to the instinct of animals, or those who are interested in the study of natural history, have something in this story which would seem to be worthy their attention; for the manuer in which "Fidello" became acquainted with the city ordinance in regard to dogs, and also with the time when Sirius reached the meridian at mid-day, would seem to suggest, at first, the point when instinct seem to suggest, at first, the point when instinct

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. At their regular session, yesterday morning, the County Commissioners passed an order for $100, to be paid to Huston, Carlton & Co., for stone furnished for the new County Jail. The contract for furnishing the pump and pipe for the South-western Lunatic Asylum was awarded to G. D. Winchell & Bro., at $1,662 87; but as the location was changed so that it would require a less number of feet of pipe, the price will be less than the sum we have named. The following communication was received relative to defending indigent persons before the Courts, but no action was taken upon the subject: upon the subject:

"To the Commissioners of Hamilton County:

"To the Commissioners of Hamilton County:
GENTLEMES—In view of the frequent difficulties and dissatisfaction regarding lawyer's fees paid by the county for the defense of indigent prisoners, and the large amount required to be paid to the various appointees of the Court, I make the following proposition to the county: I will contract with the Commissioners to take the appointment of the Court to defend all indigent prisoners, and receive from the county in full payment of such services fifty per cent. on the sverage amount paid by the county per annum, for the last three years. The salary to be fixed by an investigation as to what the whole amount paid during the last three years has been, and taking the average for one year—then taking taking the average for one year—then taking fifty per cent. on that amount—the said salary to be payable per month.

MRETING OF THE YOUNG LADIES' LYCEUM OF THE WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE.—The Young Ladies' Lyceum of the Wesleyan Female Col-lege entertained a large number of the friends of that institution last night at the Chapel of the building, on Vine-street, near Sixth. The exercises were admirable in every part, and had we time to specify by giving the peculi-arities of each essay and song, we should be pleased to do so; but we must content ourselves at present with a general notice of the performances.

Police Court.—Thirty-one cases were examined before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, but the time they consumed, although short, was quite equal to their interest.

A fellow named Xavier Highberger was charged with picking the pockets of a somnolent individual, named Alaysius Strack, while he was imprisoned in the arms of the sleepy god at a beer-house some place north of the Rhine. Judge Lowe sentenced him to pay a fine of $20 and costs, and make restitution in double the amount.

double the amount.

Stephen Weightman and John Ross, two belligerent individuals, who are careless of their reputation, visited a house on Bremenstreet, whose inmates are remarkable for the elasticity of their chastity, and upon being re-fused admittance they barst open the door, broke one of the windows and behaved themwere arrested and lodged in the Station-house, when a knife was found upon the former and a formidable slung-shot upon the latter. Stephen was fined $20 and John $10 and

Robert Quinn, the fellow who, after stealing a mat and several tassels from the store recently occupied by Henry Falls, made an effort to conceal himself and them in the canalboat Cedron, but failed in both, was sentenced to a term of four months at hard labor in the County Jail for petty larceny.

ONE OF THE BRAUTIES OF OUR PRISON MANAGE-MENT.—Although it has long been well known that our City Prison is the worst possible institution of the kind, those having the matter in charge have taken no note of it whatever, and their lack of attention has now become, apparently, at least, almost criminal.

A day or two ago we noticed the fact that an inmate of this pestiferous institution had been almost frozen to death, and would have died had not some of the inmates placed him near the stove. An evening cotemporary, which is never more than half-informed upon any sphiset dead this extrement but in inany subject, denied this statement; but in its next issue recorded his death from exposure, in half a column of its usual miserable Eu-glish, without one word of excuse for the manner in which they had treated our relation of Yesterday morning Coroner Carey was called upon to hold an inquest upon the body of Gideon Wehlmann, who died at the City of Gideon Wohlmann, who died at the City Prison for want of proper attention on the part of that department of the City Government who have this place under their special care. We make this statement from evidence adduced before the Coroner's jury, to the effect that he had been compelled to alsep upon the brick pavement, not only without a mattrast, but actually without a sufficient quantity of clothing to cover his nakedness. We have no appeal to make to our readers in regard to this matter. An inoffensive old man, whose only sin was his poverty, so far, at least, as we can judge, has been permitted to die at one of the public institutious of a city which pretends to be Christian, and that, too, in the middle of the nineteenth century; and if this fact does not suggest the manner in which they should act in the premises, no paragraph which we would be likely to write could secure that end

ENNEDY.—A couple of men named Walter L. Ripp and Joseph F. Battenshall, of the Troy, N. Y., Detective Police, arrived in this city yesterday, with a requisition for George Kennedy, the burglar, who, it will be remembered, shot a man a short time ago on Cliptonstreet. It appears that on the 2d day of Sep-tember last Kennedy and an accomplice or two entered the house of Chauncey Vibbard. at Schenectady, and stole therefrom about $1,800 worth of jewelry, which belonged to a man named William Kidd, of Rochester, N. Y., who happened to be on a visit to his

The Troy detectives have been on track of he scoundrels ever since that time, and they found one of them in the person of Kennedy. They were informed by Governor Chase that he would not be allowed to depart until he had paid the penalty upon the charges of burglary and one of shooting with intent to kill, and that then there was a requisition from Kentucky which must also be satisfied. Under these circumstances it is quite likely that when this fellow has been punished as he deserves in the West there will be very little of his life left to send in the senior. little of his life left to spend in the peniten-

The detectives have recovered almost all of the jewelry which was stolen from the house of Mr. Vibbard, and thus their journey to the West has not been entirely profitless. What other developments may be made it is hard to tell, but it is quite likely there are further records of villainy against the prisoner of Mr. Shockley.

HEAVY ROBBERY-AN AGGRAVATED CASE INGRATITUDE.—A young man named J. C. G. Lee, who is a clerk in Shillito's dry-goods store, yesterday left informations at one the Police Stations, to the effect that he had been Police Stations, to the effect that he had been robbed of clothing, jewelry, &c., to the amount of $400, under the following circumstances. Some time ago he became acquainted with a man of genteel exterior, named Frank S. Taft, who represented himself as having been connected with the New York and Eric Railrond, but had been, for some time, unemployed, and after stating the case, appealed to Mr. L.'s generosity in such a manner that he was induced to assist as much as lay in his power. Yesterday Taft saw him at the store and requested the loan of a shirt. Mr. Lee gave the fellow the key to his trunk, and a note to his fellow the key to his trunk, and a note to his landlady, and told him to go to his roomat No. 4223 George-street, and change his linen. He started off, but having obtained access to the trunk he absolutely emptied it, and car-ried the contents away with him. Among the jewelry was a diamond breast-pin which Mr.

L. avers cost him $150, and this, in connection with the clothing which was stolen, will increase the whole amount of the loss to the sum we have named above. One might bear such a loss were it not coupled with ingratitnde, which seems to be the case in this in-stance, and thus we hope this double crime may not go unpunished.

REV. C. SHABIUS'S LECTURE ON "SPIRIT-18M."-Rev. C. Smarius's second lecture on "Spiritism," last evening, at Smith & Nix-on's, was more largely attended than his first, though as an intellectual effort it was inferior to its predecessor. The lecturer embraced few new arguments, opinions or theories, confining himself to the illustration of his theme, or rather to the amusement of others by droll groupings of language.

Mr. Smarius said Pantheism was very old, and that "Spiritism" was merely a form for that philosophy; for all Pantheists sympathized to a certain degree with "Spiritism," as he showed by reference to various authors, Parcelsus and others. The inconsistencies and absurdities, as they were called, of "Spiritism" were pointed out in a humorous way that made his hearers laugh frequently. The reverend gentlemen seemed to think Orthodoxy more rational than Pantheism an idea that would be difficult to establish in many minds. His lecture had too much of ad cop-tandum style, and in his desire to be funny he was often undignified and weak.

MIDNIGHT MARCH OF THE SONS OF MALTA. This strange but benevolent body, whose good deeds shine brightly in this naughtv world, as Portia would say, met last night at their hall to celebrate the martyrdom of St. Alanthus. After the ceremonies, they formed in procession and marched through the principal streets of the city, clad in long white gowns, with black cowls and masks, in honor of the entry of St. Alanthus into the vail of mysteries.

The procession was quite large, and, as they paraded through the dimly lighted streets, with measured tread, keeping time to solemn music, the effect was grand, while their dress gave them an air which was almost awe-in-sure, and they seemed less like parinately. spiring, and they seemed less like peripatetic ghosts than men of flesh and blood.

PORTS-MONNAIR LOST.—A young girl, who is a seamstress at the house of a woman named Mrs. Little, residing on Clark-street, lost her porte-monnaie last night, some place on Pourth-street, containing $11 25. She had saved this from her earnings and was doing some shopping at the time. It was lost probably between the corner of Fourth and Main and Shillito's store. She will receive it if the finder will leave it at this office, and will pay for it a liberal reward.

NEWPORT NEWS.

SCHOOL BOARD .- Major J. R. Hallam tendered his resignation as a member of the School Board, night before last, but it was not accepted. Professor T. D. Edwards resigned his position as Principal of the Newport Seminary, and the clerk was instructed to advertise for another te fill the vacancy. After a new primary school, with Miss Lindsay as teacher, had been organized, the Board adjourned.

CITY COUNCIL.—The only business of im-portance transacted by the City Council last night was the authorizing of an order to P. H. Wilson for $550, for work on the new jail, as per contract.

WOOD'S THEATER -- THE MERCHANT OF VENICE structed another good house had night, and will be traented again this evoning for the benefit of Mis-Elworthy, in four act, with Rev. Mr. White's capi-al play of the Riva or the Cornors, Mr. Anderson al play of the KANGOP INECCEMENTS, Mr. Addressed appearing.

This is an excellent programme, and ought by all means to crowd the house, as we have no doubt it will never part. Mr. Anderson's "Jamee" is a fine pertraiture, and the many who were presented from sweng it last Saturday on account of the weather, will have an opportunity to witness it this evening.

NATIONAL TREATER.—Mr. J. B. Robert, the intellectual and scholarly tragedian, has a benefit this evening at the National, when the great spectacle of FAUST AND MAUGENTE will be presented for the fifth time. We hope to see a large and appreciating audience on the occasion.

PINE'S OPERA-HOUSE.—A fine house witnessed Strl. Wayens Bus Deep last evening at this beautiful temple of art, and highly commended the manner of its presentation.

This evening a new comedy to this city. The Queressentar Fevre, and the farce of Simpson & Co., will be given with an effective cast.

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

NICK-NAMES,—Smith vs. Springer alias Beck.
The defendant in his answer to petition, stated that in Poland he obtained the nick-name of 'Bock,' signifying a goat in the language of that country—that in English it was called Beck—that Springer in the German meant to hop or spring on one leg, and cut up capersas goats do, hence the nick-name of Bock of Beck. The zoological count was stricken out by Judge Storer.

J. F. Jones vs. S. Barr, ir. and others. To recover for services alleged to have been performed as pilot ou defendant's steamhout. A libel was filed in the Admiralty to recover the amount, and the pendency of this suit was relied upon in the demurrer.

Held, that that was a proceeding 'to zen which was no bar to the present unit. It had been decided heretofore in that Gourt that a decree of foreciosure was no bar to an action of foreciosure, nor to an action of ejectment. Demurrer overruled.

COMMON PLEAS. TRIAL OF WM. BECKLEY.—The Court, Judge fallon, presiding, proceeded to hear the testimony in this case.

T. Davis vs. J. Casaldy, Constable, and others. Action of replevin to try the right to certain furniture of the St. Charles Hotel, on the corner of Sixth and Broadway—was on trial before Judge Collins.

COVINGTON NEWS.

CITY COUNCIL.—H. E. Wilson was appointed Clerk pro tem.. Mr. Grant being absent.

Mr. Battersby presented a communication from the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, for repair of engines. Keferred.

Mr. Bressman presented a pstition from the property holders on Wheeler-street, to have the same graded and paved. Referred.

An allowance of $147.32 was made to A. Herod for County prisoners and immates of the Poor-house.

Mr. Menzies offered a resolution ordering that all moneys which may come into the Treasury, (except such as is necessary to pay the four street hands, shall be appropriated to the payment of the interest on the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge bonds, which fell due on the first of September last, and which may fall due on the first of March next, until the same be paid. Adopted.

Mr. Menzies asked and obtained leave to introduce an ordinance, submitting to the voters of the city, at the January election, the propriety of so amending the charter to permit the Council to levy a tax of forty cents on the one hundred dollars of taxable property, to pay so much of the city debt, as will fall due on the lat day of June, 1860.

Mr. Mooar offered a substitute, proposing to issubonds to the amount of $30,000, payable twelve years hence, the bonds to be sold at part, or at such discount as the Council may order. The original ordinance with the substitute were referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. Adjourned.

A JEALOUS WIFE ENDRAVORS TO CUT OFF THE HEAD OF HER HUSBAND.—A WOMAN named Brown, who resides on an alley between Third and Fourth-streets, east of Greenup, was before the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with assaulting her husband with intent to kill. A deep-seated jealousy had long existed between the pair, and on Wedneeday night last the ill-fated husband came home, but had no sooner taken his seat than his wife saluted him with a blow on the head from the polici of an ax, which was so often repeated that he was soon left bleeding and insecsible on the floor. When asked her object, she declared she had intended to kill him, and that she would do so yet. The wounds though swere, are not dangerous, and her busband was able to appear against her at the Mayor's office yesterday morning. She was bound over in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court, on a charge of assault with intent to kill. The amount of the bond is rather small, but will be just as effectual to keep her in jail as a hundred times that amount.

A GRAND LARCENY.—Officer Dickey night

A GRAND LARCENY.—Officer Dickey night before last arrested a German, whose name we were unable to learn, upon a charge of stealing an overcost from a teamster name Richard Steele, while at work near the ferry landing. He loitered around among the workmen until an opportunity occurred when he picked up the coat and started toward Ludlow, near which place he was overtaken. He was lodged in the jail, and in all probability will have a hearing this morning before Mayor Foley.

FIGHT RETWEEN TWO NEGROES-A FATHER STABS RIS SON.—A negro, named Taylor, who resides on Fifth-strest, between Greenup and Scott, had a difficulty with his son last night, in which the latter received a cut in the breast and a stab in the abdomen, from a butcher-knife in the hands of the former. The wound is severe, and perhaps mortal. They were both intoxicated.

Fixen.—John Patterson was fined $3 and costs by the Mayor for drunkenness, resterday.

Monetary and Commercial.

Financial affairs were quiet yesterday in Third-street; but the demand for Money was still active and in excess of the supply, with a prospect of becoming scarce as the season advances. The legitimate demand from customers was accommodated, as before, at the Discount-houses at 10@12 per cent.; but the outside figures for good names in outside quarters

Eastern Exchange was unaltored—14.63% being the buying and % the selling rate; prices varying according to the party desirous of disposing of bills.

Little was doing in Gold, New Orleans Exchange or neutrent Money.

Flour was in brisk demand yesterday, and super-fine went up 10c, per barrel, with sales of 3,500 bris. Whisky was unaltered. The moderate weather, with a respect of rain, had its influence on Hogs, which re heavy and rates easier; buyers holding off on count of the temperature. Mess Pork (old) sold at 14, an advance of 50c, per bri, upon previous quota-tions. Green Hams sold largely at 75c. Wheat was tending upward, but there was no change in any kind of Grain.

The receipts of Produce during the twenty-four hours ending yesterday noon were: Flour, bins 2,341 Whisky, brls 990
Corn, bushels 2,112 Wheat, bushels 2,100
Oats, 885 Barley,
